

Making Sense of Social Emotional Learning Pre K-12

Howard Muscott and Eric Mann each have 30-plus years of experience working in schools. They bring a wealth of knowledge in Social Emotional Learning, Behavior Support, and Multi-Tiered Systems to their training, coaching and consultation. Eric and Howard provide flexibility, humor, practical solutions and strategic decision-making. Using a personalized approach and a willingness to listen, they work collaboratively to align coaching and professional development support to each school and school district's unique culture.
